Seneca Park Zoo to celebrate “Animal Superpowers” on June 15

June 12, 2019 – On Saturday, June 15, Seneca Park Zoo is hosting Animal Superpowers Day. A new event this year, Animal Superpowers Day will highlight animals’ unique “superpowers” that help them to find food, escape predators, and thrive in their environments. Activities will include scheduled animal experiences, a scavenger hunt, interactive stations, biofacts, and more.

The scavenger hunt will guide guests through the Zoo, helping them discover all the amazing things animals can do. Guests will learn about species-specific behaviors and adaptations, meet ambassador animals up-close, and hear directly from zoo keepers about animal “superpowers”. Guests who complete the scavenger hunt will receive an “Animal Superpowers Expert” certificate.

Zoo guests of all ages are encouraged to represent their favorite superhero, from wearing a T-shirt to dressing in full costume. More information about Animal Superpowers Day is available at senecaparkzoo.org/conservationdays.

Seneca Park Zoo is open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with last entry at 4 p.m.

Internationally, and in our own backyard, Seneca Park Zoo plays a key role in species survival. Chartered as an educational institution in 1957 by New York State, the Seneca Park Zoo Society plays an integral role in supporting Monroe County, the owners and operators of the Zoo. Together, we are working to bring animals back from the brink of extinction.
